NEW BOOKS

Of the approximately 200 new books received by the Army Medical Library each month a few are being chosen, more or less at random, for brief mention here.

BROWN, JAMES BARRETT AND FRANK MC DOWELL. Skin grafting of burns: primary care, treatment, repair. Philadelphia etc. J.B. Lippincott co. c1943 204p.

This book is concerned particularly with the care of patients who have suffered full-thickness losses of skin and who require skin grafting to give suitable restoration and function.

GOODALL, JAMES ROBERT. A study of endometriosis, endosalpingiosis, endocervicosis, and peritoneo-ovarian sclerosis; a clinical and pathologic study. Philadelphia etc. J.B. Lippincott co. 1943 140p.

In this book the whole subject of endometriosis is brought under one cover. The past history and present status of the subject are presented as well as the latest research and the best means of meeting the situation under given circumstances. Endometriosis has much in common with infections and with malignant growths, but its spread is restricted to the genital organs, although it causes changes in adjacent tissues. Spontaneous arrest occurs in about sixty percent of cases.

HUNTER, MAX. The diagnosis and treatment of sexual disorders in the male and female, including sterility and impotence. 2d. ed. Philadelphia, F. A. Davis co., 1943, 506p.

The new edition of this often reprinted book contains a chapter on contraception and a discussion of the hormonal treatment of impotence in the male. The field covered is that of cases falling midway between pure urology and pure genitourinary pathology, and special emphasis is laid on treatment in all cases.

MARSH, GLENN. Fractures of the jaws and other facial bones. St. Louis, The C. V. Mosby co., 1943, 446p.

This subject is of interest to both the medical and dental professions. The physician needs to know the principles of occlusion of teeth and the dentist the principles of the treatment of fractures. The general types of immobilization are described and chapters on radiological technic and the war aspects of jaw fractures are included.

MULLER, GULLI LINDB AND DOROTHY E. DAWES. Introduction to medical science. Philadelphia and London, W.B. Saunders co., 1943, 454p.

The purpose of the book is to provide a general view of medical science for the young student nurse as she starts her clinical services on the ward. The principal aims of the book are to acquaint the student with the causes of disease, how the diagnosis is made, the bases for treatment, preventive measures and methods of control.

WHARTON, LAWRENCE R. Gynecology, with a section on female urology. Philadelphia and London, W.B. Saunders co., 1943, 1006p.

This book is an effort to put into simple and clear form the main facts about gynecology. It stresses those features that have to do with the maintenance of health in women and the prevention and early recognition of gynecologic diseases. It discusses urology in connection with the normal functions and pathologic changes in the whole female genito-urinary system as it is conducted in actual practice.

MICROFILM COPYING

Army Medical Library
Washington, D.C.

This Library recognizes that microfilm copying is a service which publicly supported reference libraries may well perform on an equal basis with that provided for readers and by interlibrary loans to accredited research institutions. In the pursuance of such a policy, microfilms will be sent without charge in lieu of the loan of the books to all accredited medical librarians who prefer them or where books or journals cannot be loaned.

In addition to the service given to accredited librarians of research institutions and of the various governmental establishments, microfilm copying is being conducted with special reference to the needs of the widely scattered medical units of the armed forces. This emergency need accounts now for the major part of the film activities of the Army Medical Library and they are expanding at a rapid rate.

In the case of individuals connected with hospitals, schools and research institutions, orders may be sent direct with the approval of the responsible authorities of the establishment. In general, only individual articles from the periodical literature will be copied. In special cases, long-run copying may be done to satisfy particular needs, but such a service is not to be considered as routine.

In order to simplify the operation of the copying service, it is requested that the use of Microfilm Service Order Blanks be abandoned and that the titles of articles of which microfilm copies are desired be written on letter paper and that a carbon copy of each request be included. This will simplify searching by the reference department of the Library and will lessen the amount of correspondence in connection with the order.

Governmental and emergency war establishments need not include postage where films are requested. In the case of those institutions which receive the service in lieu of interlibrary loans, the franking privilege cannot be extended, and medical librarians and individuals should send postage as follows:

- For articles not exceeding 100 pages, send 1-1/2¢
- For articles not exceeding 400 pages, send 3¢
- For articles over 400 pages, send 4-1/2¢ stamps
